

BERMUDA RESIDENTIAL GUIDE

Introduction

- Transamerica Life Bermuda (TLB) will only accept applications from residents of the countries listed in the table below who fall within an accepted Region Underwriting Classification.
- The proposed insured, regardless of citizenship at the time of application, must be a resident of one of the countries and if required, one of its major cities.
- Each of the listed countries may have its own unique tax, legal and monetary restrictions. Please consult with a local tax or legal advisor for advice.
- TLB reserves the right to add, reclassify or delete any country in the table below at its sole discretion at any time.
- In accordance with TLB's solicitation rules, all solicitation activities and completion of all necessary paperwork must occur within the appropriate solicitation jurisdiction.

Region Classification - "1S", "1" and "2" countries

Major Cities

Typically refers to populated areas, the UNICEF "Metropolitan Area/Region" definition.

It is described as "a formal local government area comprising the urban area as a whole and its primary commuter areas, typically formed around a city with a large concentration of people (i.e. a population of at least 100,000)". Please note that this definition serves as a guide and is not definitive.

Country of Residency

Generally defined as "where the proposed insured resides for 183 days or more per annum." The underwriter will assess the case to determine the residential region.

Jumbo Limit

Region 1S, 1 countries: $75,000,000
Region 2 countries: $45,000,000

Japanese citizens

- Japanese citizens who do not reside in or have a domicile in Japan may apply to own or be insured under TLB policies if they can provide the required declarations contained in the "Japanese Citizen – Declaration of Residence and Domicile" Form.
- TLB will not accept applications from citizens of Japan who are considered to be resident or have a domicile in Japan. For the purposes of the declaration, a person is considered to have a domicile in Japan if he or she is covered by the formal registration of residence in Japan (jumin-hyo).
- Individuals who live in, own real property in, or pay residents tax (jumin-zei) in Japan should consult with their professional advisers to determine whether they may be considered residents of Japan. Further information for Japanese citizens is contained in the "Japanese Citizen – Declaration of Residence and Domicile" Form.
